

If your agency provides financial services to constituents, TechSur Solutions can ensure your software solutions are using the latest advances in digital transformation to deliver services efficiently. TechSur delivers this service as a package that your agency can purchase today under an 8(a) STARS III direct award. Using this BEST IN CLASS vehicle, your agency can award contracts of up to $4.5 million on a non-competitive basis. This means digital transformation is within reach – this fiscal year, with end-of-year money, all while meeting small business contracting goals.

What Does Digital Transformation Involve?

Digital transformation is the new reality for all industries and institutions, including government agencies. TechSur provides a holistic view to make sure your development teams have access to the most innovative technologies and practices available. Our experts are trained in the full stack of the digital landscape specifically within the Federal financial services realm. We can advise your existing team on first or next steps to bring innovation and modernization to your systems.

TechSur Solutions works with your existing technologies and contractors to improve your business operations in order to meet the mission effectively. Rather than focusing solely on technology, we make sure to consider processes, big-picture objectives, the makeup and structure of your team, and necessary cultural changes. The technology is imperative to digital transformation, but we must always consider customer experience, operational processes, and business models before any modernization initiatives.
